

Gathering Information from Personal Income

Begin gathering information from your other sources at least one year prior to your retirement. The sources may be payable differently and it may take time to set up the various payments. Knowing this information early may help prevent unwanted confusion and delays when your retirement date arrives.